National Institute of Advanced Manufacturing Technology, NIAMT (formerly the National Institute of Foundry and Forge Technology, NIFFT), Ranchi, Jharkhand, was established in 1966 as an institution of the Ministry of Education (Govt. of India). The institute offers advanced and industry-oriented programmes. All the departments have highly qualified teaching faculty members and well-equipped laboratories. The students are encouraged to visit industries and carry out industry-oriented research problems in association with the industries and leading research laboratories in the country. A good number of M.Tech. students are placed in different industries, selected through campus interviews. The institute has a computer center, library, sports facilities and hostel accommodation. The Institute is registered under the National Scholarship Portal (NSP) and E-Kalyan portal, Govt. of Jharkhand. Self-Sponsored students may avail scholarships from E-Kalyan or NSP as per their eligibility for the scholarship schemes.
